

AAPCP Fall Conference - A Journey to Value-Based Compensation Plans

September 25-28, 2023

Live Virtual Event

12 PM to 2 PM EST

Schedule

Day 1 – The Basics of Value and Performance Compensation

The Evolution of Value-Based Compensation Strategy

Angie Caldwell (PYA) and Tynan Kugler (PYA) will present a foundational framework for organizations transitioning to more value or performance-based compensation plans.

Understanding the Regulatory Value-Based Arrangement Framework – A Practical Discussion on Utilizing Value

Chip Hutzler (HMS Advisors) and Cathy Martin (Luminis Health) present on the value-based regulatory framework and how to structure such plans.

Day 2 – How Organizations Create the Framework

A Framework for Value-Based Metric Selection

Alex Kirkland (Coker) and Thomas McPherson (Duly Healthcare) will focus on where healthcare organizations find themselves on the value-based continuum, and it will provide a framework of how to select value-based metrics for provider measurement.

Driving Value/Team-Based Strategy Across Regions

Brent Lawles (OSF Healthcare), Matt BonDurant (ProCARE), and Mathew Hanley (OSF Healthcare) will be presenting on the management of value-based compensation plans across OSF Healthcare, a 2000 provider organization across 15 regions.

Day 3 – Learning from the Leading Organizations

Engaging Specialists in the Development and Implementation of Value-Based Compensation Models

Kevin Cassell (Mayo Clinic Health System) and Jim Carr (InHealth Advisors) will discuss how value-based compensation models can succeed beyond the primary care specialties.

Value-Based Primary Care Physician Compensation Models

In this session, Dave Hesselink (SullivanCotter) and Tim Stamper (SullivanCotter) will explore the situational factors and market dynamics that led two organizations to redesign their primary care physician compensation models and how those new models reinforce and align primary care physicians to organizational success factors.

Day 4 – The Future and Innovation in Value

The Role of Value-Based Service Organizations (“VSOs”) in the Future of Healthcare

In this presentation, Drew Hoffman (Pinnacle) will cover the role of VSOs in value-based care. At the highest level, VSOs are an evolution of management services organizations with a focus on improving quality and enhancing efficiency in healthcare organizations.

Understanding CIN Strategy and Implications for Compensation

Molly Johnson (Veralon) and Richard Chasinoff (Veralon) will be discussing the importance of the clinically integrated network. When designing provider compensation that supports success in value-based payer contracts, it is crucial to understand the structure within which the value-based contracts live.
